

WE MEAN BUSINESS.

We are out to dispose of this $20,000 Stock this Month.

THE BARGAINS ARE TRULY STARTLING.

The prices we quote here should be enough to make everyone living in Oregon and vicinity appreciate what this sale offers, but for the benefit of the people who have not been following the trend of clothing values we say this—

The bargains in this sale are all out of proportion to those in the average August Clearance, and the reason we have cut the goods so unusually deep is because we mean business—we are out to dispose of this entire stock—and by the Lord, Harry, we are going to—if the lowest prices ever quoted in Oregon will turn the trick.

Don't stick with the prunes

MY DAD'S favorite yarn.
WAS THE one about.
THE OLD storekeeper.
WHO WAS playing checkers.
IN THE back of the store.
AMONG THE coal oil.
AND THE prunes.
WHEN THE sheriff.
WHO HAD just jumped his king.
SAID "Si there's a customer.
WAITIN' OUT front."
AND SI said "Sh-h-h!
IF YOU'LL keep quiet.
MEBBE HE'LL go away."
NOW HERE'S the big idea.
WHEN A good thing.
HAPPENS ALONG.
DON'T LEAVE it to George.
TO GRAB the gravy.
F'RINSTANCE IF.

YOU HEAR of a smoke.
OR READ about a smoke.
THAT REALLY does more.
THAN PLEASE the taste.
THERE ARE no hooks on you.
THERE'S NO law against.
YOUR STEPPING up.
WITH THE other live ones.
AND SAYING right out.
IN A loud, clear voice.
"GIMME A pack of.
THOSE CIGARETTES.
THAT SATISFY."

YOU'LL say you never tasted such flavor, such mild but full-bodied tobacco goodness.
You're right, too, because they

Annual Picnic of Scottish Rite Masons.

The third annual picnic of the Holt County Scottish Rite Masons, held at Big Lake, Tuesday of last week, was a grand success from start to finish. The crowd, which was conservatively estimated at 800, gathered with their well-filled baskets early in the afternoon and from then on things were in full swing.

In a fast, professional-like game of ball, the Blue Lodge proved themselves winners over the Consistory. Batteries were "Chick" Fries and "Parson" Jones for the winning team, and Fred Cottier and "Bill" Moore for the Consistory. The writer has never heard "Parson" preach, but if he can preach like he can play ball, he is some preacher. Joe Morse and Will Schulte were star fielders for the Consistory, and although Joe showed no mean speed as a ball player, he did not let his speed interfere in the least with his talking. One of the most spectacular plays of the game was made by Colonel Fries, when, although all bases were full and the man at bat walked on the fourth ball, the Colonel made a grand slide in home.

The Blue Lodge won again in the tug-of-war, but according to the losers, and which fact could not be denied by the winners, their victory was won by foul means.

C. E. Munn won in the sack race, while the "booby" prize was due Tom Bridgman. "Rosey," the Burlington operator at Napier, and George Cottier, who had been practicing all season getting in trim for this event, cleaned up everybody in the horse-shoe pitching contest.

Nobody realizes the art of which the baby is master, when it succeeds in surviving the first year of its life on a bottle, until they have tried "drinking" coco cola from a bottle in the same fashion. Jim Shumate, however, proved himself an adept. Among those who could no longer hold their own in this manner of obtaining nourishment were Maurice Stokes, Tom Bridgman, Dr. Ott and Will Schulte.

The big contest of the day, however, was the one in which all partook—that of stowing away food to the limit of his or her capacity. The grand march of the contestants to the scene of the fray was led by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Munn. Music was furnished by the Saxophone band from Moila Temple, St. Joseph. Chicken was served by the dishpanful; when the task of counting the cakes was despaired of, they numbered way past the hundred mark; the twenty-five gallons of ice cream "melted away" very rapidly; and over eighty gallons of lemonade were consumed during the afternoon.

No decision can be given as to the winner of this contest, as the results were too close for fair discrimination. The Rev. L. E. Jones made a fitting talk, paying tribute to womanhood, and expressing the appreciation of the Masons to the women for their assistance in making the picnic such a success. A donation of souvenirs, made by the Shrine to the Holt County Scottish Masons, were quickly auctioned off—the proceeds going to create a charity fund.

Potentate Harry Baum, wife and son and a great many others accompanied the Saxophone Band from St. Joseph. Dancing was enjoyed throughout the evening at Iden's pavilion. Credit for the success of the picnic is due Harry Hitz and Ward Headley, who, with a committee of three men and wives from each town in the county, had charge of all arrangements.

Circuit Clerks and Recorders Meet in Annual Convention.

Editors, Sentinel, Oregon, Mo.—Recently the writer, in company with Mr. Simpson, who is Recorder of Deeds of Holt County, attended the annual convention of the Circuit Clerks and Recorders of the state of Missouri, held at Chillicothe, and I thought perhaps I might be able to give you a brief outline of what transpired.

The convention was scheduled for two days, 29th and 30th of July, but owing to the fact that no matter of any importance needed attention, the convention came to an end on the first day. These conventions are held with a view of getting together and comparing notes, you might say, as the work of the circuit clerk and recorder of deeds, while not technical, to new beginners quite a lot of unnecessary work can be saved if the victim is familiar with each step in handling the affairs of his office, so we simply talk over the different steps in filing suits, issuing process, and any other matters of interest. It was a profitable convention to the undersigned, also the recorder.

We had the pleasure of visiting the Industrial School for Girls, which is located at Chillicothe, and I will tell you some things we were able to learn from the superintendent, who accompanied the clerks and recorders through the buildings. This school, of course, most every one knows, is maintained by the state, but a great deal of the cost is earned by the inmates of the school, and at the present there are 226 girls committed, all the way from 12 to 17 years of age. When they reach the age of 18, they are permitted to leave—that is, they were formerly allowed to do so, but since the legislature has changed the age of a minor from 18 to 21, I suppose all new girls admitted will probably have to stay longer. We first visited the auditorium, where a brass band, composed of something like 25 pieces, were giving a concert—each one, of course, was an inmate of the institution, and they were girls of the age of 14 to 17 years; it was quite an inspiration to hear these girls, and their music was good, a very good instructor is maintained for their education in music.

We next visited the canning department, or I should say rather, the store-room of fruits and vegetables canned by the inmates. The cold pack method of canning vegetables is used, and it was quite an appetizing sight to look upon the many good things stored there. There are 69 1-6 acres in the plot of ground set aside for the school, and every foot of this ground, we were informed, was farmed or taken care of by girls alone. Outside of this 69 1-6 acres, a tract of forty acres is rented for hay and pasture land.

My idea of the Industrial School for Girls, originally, was a place where one might expect to see rough treatment given the unfortunate girls who were committed there, but in this I was most agreeably surprised. No harsh methods are resorted to to punish an inmate for any improper act. But they do this—should a girl not make her grades, through carelessness, she is placed in a building separate and apart from the rest of the inmates of the school, and not allowed any of the privileges accorded others, such as going once a week to a moving picture show, going upon a hike, or some other amusement, and she cannot leave this place until she has made satisfactory grades sufficient to satisfy the superintendent. It is useless to say that once being placed there is enough for them, and they are seldom sent back a second time. The girls are given school work up to and including the eighth grade work. They are also taught such things as dress-making, fancy work. We were advised that already this year receipts from the sale of fancy work amounted to the sum of around $400. Quite a lot of their work will be on display at the State Fair at Sedalia, after which it will be sold to any one desiring to purchase it, and from the looks of their work, I should judge that not one piece would remain.

We were advised by the superintendent that during the entire time that to insure publication, the same week, all items must be in not later than Tuesday of each week, otherwise there is no assurance of their publication the same week.

from the date of the founding of the school until the present time, only two girls had been lost by death. This remarkable result is accounted for only by having regular hours, proper food and proper exercise. The first building was built in 1888 and called "Marquette College." It is a very pretty place, and I would advise any one who might be in Chillicothe to take the time and visit this school—the second Saturday in each month is visiting day.

I do not mean to be understood as meaning this is a better place than home for most girls, but to those of the unfortunate ones, it is a great blessing in the end. There are no better places than home, where a girl is directly under her mother's care, and can be guided by her mother's love and advice; however, a nice thing about this, should a girl be placed here for a term of years, when she leaves the institution she comes out with a good training, and she should profit by her experience.

It was not my intention to take up so much space, but I just felt like, that what I have narrated above, might be of interest to some. I think every one should become acquainted with things pertaining to our state institutions, and I thank you very kindly for your indulgence.

Respectfully,
E. A. DUNHAM.
